INVEST IN A

SAFE CITY

2019 ANNUAL REPORT

DEAR FRIENDS

Thanks to the generous support of our community of donors, the New York City Police Foundation provides critical resources for innovative NYPD programs to make New York City a safer place in which to live, visit, and work.

AS AN INDEPENDENT, NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION, THE POLICE FOUNDATION'S GOALS ARE

- To support the NYPD as it strives to reduce crime efficiently and effectively
- To position the Department to combat terrorism through support of intelligence gathering
- To further the professional development and well-being of personnel through education and training
- To invest in new innovative technology and equipment
- To sponsor activities for the police and the community to work together to build trust and fight crime through Neighborhood Policing

SOME OF OUR RECENT ACCOMPLISHMENTS INCLUDE:

- We sponsored 14 NYPD Intelligence Detectives in overseas police departments, giving the NYPD a vital look at foreign counterterrorism intelligence and tactics.
- We purchased new explosive-detection canines who can find lethal material in large crowds, better protecting major events such as the Thanksgiving Day Parade, the NYC Marathon and New Year's Eve.

- We paid rewards for anonymous tipsters that come through to the Crime Stoppers and Gun Stop hotlines, removing dangerous criminals and illegal guns from our streets.
- We cut the ribbon on a new police sub-station in Times Square to better support officers as they provide security at the crossroads of the world.
- We funded many police and community activities as the NYPD transitioned into a new era of Neighborhood Policing to promote better relationships while reducing crime.

Building on nearly 50 years of commitment to public safety, our Trustees remain dedicated to investing in the important work of the NYPD and to championing its members who do so much to make our city safer.

Thank you to the dedicated men and women of the NYPD, and to all of our supporters. What you do matters, and New York City is a better place for all of us because of you.

Sincerely,

Andrew H. Tisch

STATE OF THE NYPD

Police Commissioner James P. O'Neill and the men and women of the NYPD have ushered in an era of historically low crime in New York City. Crime rates have fallen to levels not seen since the 1950s. As the Department moves forward in this new era, the New York City Police Foundation will be with them every step of the way, providing necessary funding for new initiatives and technology.

These critical resources help to make New York City a safer place to live, visit and work. Our unique public/private partnership continues to keep the NYPD at the cutting edge of innovation as it begins a new era in policing and a path to a safer and fairer city.

A DRAMATICALLY SAFER CITY

From 1990–2018, crime in New York City substantially decreased.

NEIGHBORHOOD POLICING AND COMMUNITY SUPPORT

The priority for the NYPD and for the New York City Police Foundation is to engage the public through Neighborhood Policing. The Foundation is working with the NYPD at both the citywide and local levels to ensure Neighborhood Policing's continued success as it is implemented in all precincts and commands throughout the city.

Engaging youth is an essential part of Neighborhood Policing. The Police Foundation partnered with local community organizations and with neighborhood police officers to develop a program which uses virtual reality to teach conflict resolution and emotional intelligence to young people. This program provides useful life skills, helps to reduce criminal activity, trains young people in emerging technologies, and creates human connections between at-risk youth and NYPD officers.

NEIGHBORHOOD POLICING TIMES SQUARE SUBSTATION

In 2018 the NYPD and the New York City Police Foundation unveiled the newly renovated NYPD Times Square Substation. A centerpiece in the heart of New York City, the Times Square Substation is a state-of-the-art building advancing the Department's security efforts for the hundreds of thousands of residents and visitors who pass through the area every day. It is also a dynamic mechanism from which the Department can share information and engage with the public in a significant way.

CRIME FIGHTING

The Police Foundation provides the vital funds for two NYPD reward programs that, for over 30 years, have provided clear and effective results. The Crime Stoppers Program offers rewards of up to $2,500 for anonymous information to the 800-577-TIPS hotline that leads to the arrest and indictment of a violent felon.

Operation Gun Stop gives rewards of $1,000 for tips leading to the seizure of illegal weapons. This public/private partnership between the NYPD and the New York City Police Foundation has been an invaluable crime-fighting tool since the Crime Stoppers Program's inception in 1983.

COUNTERTERRORISM AND INTELLIGENCE

For over 15 years the Police Foundation has funded the stationing of NYPD Intelligence Officers across the globe to gather firsthand intelligence on worldwide counterterror operations. There are now 14 officers stationed abroad in the International Liaison Program building contacts with local law enforcement agencies and providing in-depth analysis to their counterparts back home. In the event of a terrorist attack overseas, these detectives can be at the scene to provide timely information to the NYPD.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT, TRAINING AND SUPPORT

Working closely with the NYPD's newly established Office of Professional Development, the Foundation is supporting a broad based program to define, assess, and develop leaders within the NYPD. In addition to scholarships for individuals the Foundation works with the Department to reach specific groups with tailored programs for continuing education. For example, the Foundation sponsors a career development training program and speakers bureau for NYPD Intelligence Analysts to further their knowledge of world affairs and international relations.

The Foundation also sponsors the Heroes Fund which is dedicated to supporting programs designed to maintain the health, well-being and morale of the brave men and women of the NYPD. These programs include fitness centers, memorial services and special events which recognize the exceptional work of the men and women of the Department.
